

Birthday Party Checklist

By Sherry M. Lewis

- Three to four weeks in advance
  - Guests Write down your guestlist.
  - Budget Create your spending plan. Be realistic, but leave flexibility for last-minute problems or ideas.
  - Theme If you want to have a theme birthday, choose it now. It'll impact the decorations, invitations and the cake.
  - Rental If you need to rent anything that you don't own, go to your party store and make the reservations now.
  - Food Write down a tentative menu, and include beverages.
  - Shopping list From the menu, write a grocery shopping list for the weeks to come. You can buy any non-perishables at this point.
  - Activities Choose the games and activities for the guests. If children are involved, make two sets of activities: one for the kids and one for the adults.
  - Invitations Write down and send your invitations. Mailing invitations is very formal; nowadays an email is often sufficient. You can even use Facebook and other social networks to manage your guestlist, but don't neglect those who are not on these websites.
  - Entertainment Look up local entertainers if you plan on hiring one for a few hours. Internet business databases are good for reviews of such services. Book one that has a good reputation.
- Two to three weeks in advance
  - Favors If you plan on giving party favors, order or put them together now. You can involve your children in this activity by turning it into a crafts afternoon.
  - Games If any of the games require buying boards and items, go to the toy store.
  - Balloons If you want balloons to your party, go to your party supplies store and place your order.
  - Help If you need assistance with the decoration and the cooking, ask some of your guests to help. Many will be more than happy to participate.
  - Inventory Make an inventory of the party supplies you do own and put them together at the same place. Make of list of anything missing and buy what you need.
  - Rental Confirm your reservation with the rental store.
  - Candy If you plan on having a pinata party, go buy the pinata and the candy to fill it.
- One week in advance
  - Cleaning Do the heavy cleaning: floors, windows, carpets, upholstery.
  - Cake Go to your bakery and order the cake. If you are making it yourself, bake it and freeze it, without frosting.
  - Flowers Go to your florist and order the flowers.

- Food If you didn't do so earlier, go to your grocery store for non-perishable food items, and anything that can be kept in the freezer.
- Timeline Make a schedule for the activities. Be prepared to be flexible as some games might be more popular than others.
- Guestlist Call or email anyone who has not responded to your invitation yet.
- Two days in advance
  - Batteries Buy or recharge the batteries for the photo and video cameras. Make sure you have extra.
  - Cleaning Dust your tables and counters, and remove clutter from the party area.
  - Fridge Make space in your fridge for all the food you will cook or receive from your guests.
  - Entertainment Call your entertainer and confirm time and price.
  - Music If having music, build your playlist or choose the CDs.
  - Pinata Fill the pinata and put it in a safe place.
- One day in advance:
  - Food Defrost anything frozen in the fridge. It will keep until the next day. Don't forget the cake.
  - Cleaning Clean your bathroom and anywhere else your guests will go if you haven't already.
  - Emergencies Buy emergency supplies like bandages and peroxide. You never know when a scratch needs disinfecting.
  - Decoration Decorate the area where the party will be held.
  - Childproof Make sure you make the party area secure for children. Check the floor and other small spaces for potentially dangerous objects.
  - Games Take out the games and put them in a corner of the party area.
  - Favors Gather the party favors and set them in the party area.
  - Cooking Prepare anything that will keep in the fridge overnight.
- Day of the party
  - Orders Pick up your cake, flower and balloon orders if they are not delivered.
  - Cake Put the frosting and decorations on the cake, and keep it in the fridge.
  - Decoration Decorate any other space left.
  - Games Set the games up, ready for playing.
  - Service Gather your plates, utensils and glasses.
  - Photo/video Take out your cameras and have them ready to use.
  - Cooking Prepare any food that needs to be fresh such as salads, veggie platters, etc.
  - Supplies Confirm that you have enough bathroom supplies for the amount of guests. Make sure you have extra, just in case.
  - Party. As your guests arrive, smile and have fun!
