

Cruise Checklist

By Bianca Hendriks

- Choosing a Cruise
 - Decide where you want to go.
 - Make a list of cities that you would like to visit on your trip.
 - Figure out how much you can afford to spend on a cruise.
 - List your expectations of the ship itself.
 - Compare cruise lines.
 - Narrow down your options to be left with a very short list.
 - Choose the cruise that gives you the most bang for your buck.
 - Check what sorts of shore excursions do the chosen cruise line offer.
- Booking a Cruise
 - Contact a travel agent to plan your trips.
 - Outline the option you've chosen, and see what kind of deal they can get you.
 - Research online to see if you can find any discounts.
 - Book your cruise.
 - Select multiple options for your cabin choice in descending order of preference.
 - Make airline and land travel arrangements that will coincide with the start and end of your cruise.
 - Review the literature that comes with your cruise package.
 - Plan your itinerary, including any shore excursions, classes or activities that you will want to partake in during your vacation.
 - Make your final payment on the cruise on or before the due date.
- Packing for a Cruise
 - Make sure your travel documents are in order.
 - Be sure you know exactly what sort of documentation you will need.
 - Make multiple photocopies of your passport, your driver's license and all travel documents.
 - Make a list of emergency contact numbers.
 - Visit your pharmacy and make sure any prescription medication you are taking is filled to last the duration of the cruise.
 - Pack your clothing, accessories, and toiletries.

- Make arrangements for home care.
- Fill out the pre-boarding forms that the cruise line requires.
