

Mortgage Application Checklist

By Nicole Nichols-West

- Before applying for a mortgage
 - Credit report Get copies of your credit report from several sources and check carefully to see if there is any incorrect information. You can dispute these items.
 - Find a house You will want to do some research in the neighborhood, and have the house you select inspected before committing to buying it.
 - Down payment Figure out how much of a down payment you can afford.
 - Monthly budget Determine how high of a monthly payment you can comfortably manage. This should be non-negotiable. Do not let the lender talk you into something you can't afford.
 - Mortgage type Choose either a fixed rate or an adjustable rate mortgage.
 - Select a term Use a mortgage calculator to determine how long of a term you will need to pay off your mortgage at the monthly payment you can afford.
- Choosing a lender
 - Realtor recommended mortgage company Some Realtors like to work with specific lenders to streamline home sales.
 - Financial institution Some home-buyers prefer to use their local bank or credit union.
 - Independent lender Some loan companies deal only in real estate and have special financing plans.
 - Owner financing In some cases, you'll find an owner willing to carry the note.
- Documentation
 - Proof of employment/income Expect to be asked for 2 month's worth of pay stubs, and possibly your last 2 tax returns (the latter especially if you are self employed).
 - Proof of residence Most lenders want proof that you have maintained a residence and paid bills in a regular fashion for at least 2 years.
 - Credit report The lender will pull your credit report, so you should have already pulled your own copy and disputed incorrect items.
 - Credit card statements This is the most common kind of debt, and is a good indicator of your debt-to-income ratio.
 - Bank Statements 2 months is generally sufficient.
 - Proof of additional income. This includes government pensions, retirement or Social Security income as well as income from rental properties or investments
 - Current loans Your current house mortgage if you have one, plus any auto loans or personal signature loans must be included.
 - Divorce If you've recently divorced, your divorce decree may relive you of some joint debt. Also show proof of child support or alimony payments.
 - Expenses List all of your current and projected expenses.
- Applying for your mortgage

- Shop around Get several different quotes for your mortgage and compare. It never hurts to have some competition for your business.
- Read everything If you have to, ask for a day to look over the papers with your attorney.
- Stand firm Don't let yourself be bullied into a down payment or monthly mortgage payment you can't afford.
- Dispute unreasonable interest rates If you feel the interest rate is unfair, ask why it is so high and try to have it decreased.
- Extra fees Request that extra fees be waived. Many fees are tacked on at closing under the guise of 'paperwork fees' or 'copying fees'. Many lenders will waive these if asked.
- Closing costs If at all possible, the other party or the Realtor should pay closing costs.
